

CORPORATE POLICY OF WÜRTH AEROSPACE SOLUTIONS GMBH

Würth Aerospace Solutions GmbH is committed to the high safety requirements of companies in the aerospace industry. Therefore, the quality and process management is aligned with the requirements of DIN EN 9120 and its organizational independence is ensured by the direct connection to the management.

We act responsibly with a focus on meeting the requirements of our customers as well as legal and regulatory requirements. In addition, continuous training and development of employees ensures a holistic understanding of quality management. By analyzing opportunities and risks and implementing appropriate measures, we strive to achieve a continuous increase in customer satisfaction.

All requirements placed on Würth Aerospace Solutions GmbH are subjected to a systematic review in order to derive specific implementation measures. In addition to the requirements of customers and suppliers, this also applies to the needs of other interested parties.

The procurement processes are geared to the required qualification of suppliers for the aerospace industry, which is implemented through qualified supplier management. Product quality is additionally monitored by means of product testing. Sufficient availability of products is the result of a qualified planning process.

Logistical processes and warehousing are consistently aligned to customer requirements and continuously optimized. The corresponding performance indicators are regularly reviewed and adapted to further development.

All of the company's activities are subject to regular review based on the PDCA cycle. This ensures that the intended results are achieved and conveys the importance of effective quality management.

The company regularly identifies the interested parties (stakeholders) in its environment and derives necessary measures from their requirements. The consideration of stakeholders is a fixed part within the management review. As a reliable business partner, we act in accordance with our Code of Conduct and dutifully deal with our obligation to social responsibility.
